Safe Saw Initiative in Second Year

Earlier this month, three local high schools received grant funds to help fund the purchase of SawStop® table saws, which will replace traditional table saws in the classroom.

Arrowhead Union High School in Hartland, Menomonee Falls High School in Menomonee Falls, and Norris School in Mukwonago were each awarded $2,500.

"Through the Safe Saw Initiative, we hope to impress upon students the importance of safety in woodworking, not only in the classroom, but for future employment opportunities," says Tracy McCall, MD, WCMS President who started the program last year.

The medical society's Safe Saw Initiative promotes high quality, safe education for students interested in entering the skilled trades. Over the past two years, seven high schools have received grant funding from WCMS to help purchase SawStop.
